Dwarf Alberta Spruce

Dwarf Alberta Spruce are a super dwarf evergreen for our area. They can, however, be susceptible to occasional spider mite injuries. The injury starts out in the summer as a lighter colored patch on the evergreen and it can turn brown if not sprayed with a spider mite spray. It is available in an aerosol can, a pump bottle, or a concentrate. We recommend spraying once a year in June as a preventative measure.

They like to be trimmed each year in July, so shape by taking off the small branches that stick out.
